

URGENT FUNDING APPEAL

Philippines – Typhoon Haiyan/Yolanda

Introduction

NetHope, a consortium of 41 leading humanitarian NGOs in the world, is issuing this urgent funding appeal to support its coordination and information and communication technology (ICT) related support. Urgent assistance is needed to support NetHope member organizations following the passage of Typhoon Haiyan (local name Yolanda) over the Philippines on November 8th, that has so far resulted in the deaths of over 10,000 people and affected over 9.5 million people.

Overall Situation

The initial reports coming out of the worst hit areas paint a dire picture of the situation after Typhoon Haiyan (local name Yolanda), one of the strongest typhoons ever recorded, crossed the Philippines.

The worst hit area is in and around the city of Tacloban, where 90% of the houses were destroyed. A three meter (10 feet) high storm surge ripped through the city as record winds were blowing. Unconfirmed reports of hundreds of bodies in the streets have surfaced in the media.

The first joint assessment teams reported that they had difficulties in getting around due to enormous amounts of debris on the roads. The airport in Tacloban is closed except to relief flights. Other areas reported to have suffered substantial damage are Aklan, Palo, and Roxas City. Many other areas suffered significant damage and power is limited in many areas in the path of the storm.

The Government of Philippines has formally requested international assistance for this disaster. Quite notably, the Government highlighted the need to improve communication capabilities, which are essential to enable effective coordination and provision of humanitarian assistance.
